College Application Week Resources for Your High School

Sponsored by the Delaware Department of Education and in partnership with the Institute for Public Administration at the University of Delaware, Delaware College Application Month (CAM) is a statewide effort with the goal of providing every graduating high school senior the opportunity to apply to college. For questions about Delaware College Application Month, contact the State Coordinators:

Responsibilities of Participating High Schools

High schools implementing a successful College Application Week should include the following as part of their initiative:

- Hosting a program during the school day that is open to any student interested in applying with a focus on engaging first-generation students, students from low-income families, and students who may not otherwise apply to college. Your state’s initiative may be a week or longer, but most schools host events on only one or two days, depending on the size of the senior class.
- Identifying and convening a school team.
- Leveraging support of the school team to ensure that students are prepared to participate in the event (e.g., essays are completed prior to the program, students have researched the institutions to which they want to apply, etc.).
- Engaging the local community, families, and others through volunteer opportunities, information letters, and advertising the program.
- Creating a college-going culture within the school through a variety of approaches.
- Following-up with students after the event to ensure applications submitted are complete (transcripts, college entrance exam scores, letters of recommendation, submitting a complete FAFSA, etc.).

Identifying Stakeholders and Convening a School Team

Schools that have successfully implemented a College Application Week event have done so through the collaboration of multiple stakeholders. A key approach to engaging stakeholders is the creation of a school team that will provide input on and support for the various logistics necessary to implement a successful College Application Week event at the school level.

Below, you will find a list of recommended community partners you can use to identify the key stakeholders in your community. Keep in mind that this list is not exhaustive and you should engage any other community partners that have a vested interest in college access and success. When planning and implementing your school’s College Application Week initiative, you should follow all district and school policies regarding non-school personnel visiting, volunteering, or otherwise assisting with your school’s program.
Volunteer Disclaimer: For the purposes of College Application Month (CAM), all individuals recruited to support students in the computer lab and other related activities will be considered volunteers. The Department of Education has not conducted background checks for any participating CAM volunteers. Therefore, a school or district employee must be present with the volunteers at all times during the CAM activities. Students cannot be left alone with the volunteers at any time during a CAM event.

Potential community partners include:
- Admissions representatives from local colleges (two-year and four-year).
- Local business leaders.
- Local Chamber of Commerce.
- College access initiatives (federally funded, state-funded, or community-based).
- Faith-based community partners.
- Nonprofit organizations such as the YMCA, 4H, Boys and Girls Club, etc.
- PTA and other parents/family members who want to be engaged in the process.
- Student leaders in your high school.
- Retired school personnel.

School Team: Possible Agenda Items
As outlined above, a school team comprising a variety of stakeholders is extremely effective in creating support and buy-in for your school’s College Application Week event. There are a variety of topics that can and should be discussed with your school team.

Some of the key topics the school team should discuss are:

- What is the College Application Week event?
- Outlining the role of the school team.
- Developing a communication strategy: students, parents, school staff, and community.
- Ensuring students are prepared well before the event (researching schools, learning how to pay for the application, understanding additional admission requirements).
- Creating or enhancing a college-going culture that is visible in the school in the weeks leading up to the event.
- Encouraging and recruiting students to participate in the initiative.
- Including underclassmen in the effort.
- Engaging volunteers (ideas are provided at www.DelawareStudentSuccess.org).
- Ensuring a process for evaluation and data collection.
- Following-up with students to ensure the college and financial aid processes are completed.

After your College Application Week, your school team should meet to debrief on the successes and challenges of the current year’s initiative. Feel free to use the topics above to guide the discussion. The debrief meeting should occur as soon after the conclusion of your school’s College Application Week as possible. By quickly assessing what worked and what areas need improvement, your school team can get a jump-start on planning for next year’s program.
Timeline: Implementing a College Application Week Program

Although your school’s College Application Week program won’t be implemented until the fall, it is important that your school begins planning for the program early. You can find supporting documents at www.DelawareStudentSuccess.org/College-Application-Month.

Preparing and Implementing a College Application Week

There are a variety of activities that high school site coordinators can do prior to, during, and after the school’s College Application Week event to ensure it is successful and meaningful for participating students. Samples of these activities can be found online. There is also a Site Coordinator Checklist on page 5 of this document to assist you with tracking the implementation of each activity.

Pre-Event Activities: Creating a College-Going Culture and Preparing Students

There are several activities that schools participating in the College Application Week program can do prior to the event to prepare students and generate enthusiasm and support for the program. There are samples of pre-event activities that high school site coordinators can utilize as they plan for the program at DelawareStudentSuccess.org/College-Application-Month. The Delaware College Application Month Planning Team will print and mail postcards to your school’s seniors and will print and deliver “I Applied” stickers for your school’s use during your College Application Week event.

During Your College Application Week Program

You have completed all of the planning for your College Application Week program and due to the pre-event activities, your students are prepared and the community is engaged in this exciting initiative. Activities and resources can be found in the online document titled Site Coordinator Samples to help make your event a success!

After Your College Application Week Program

Congratulations! You have successfully implemented a College Application Week program for your students and started them on the pathway to enrolling in college next fall. There are templates and suggestions provided online to assist you with post-event activities.

As we all know, the journey to successfully enrolling in postsecondary education does not end with the submission of a college application. There are several more steps that each participating student will need to complete over the next few months including, but not limited to, submitting college admissions test scores, transcripts (current and final), recommendation letters, and a FAFSA. As such, it is important that your team implements a plan to follow-up with participating students.

Samples can be found in the Site Coordinator Samples Document at https://delawarestudentsuccess.org/college-application-month/
