

Delaware Student Success Conference

2020

The Delaware Student Success Conference will be virtual for 2020. Through interactive, live sessions, our presenters will share best practices and ideas to help us all reach the goal of every student entering 12th grade with informed career and education plans for life after high school.

We hope that you will join the live sessions, which will be interactive. There will also be a recorded version for each workshop.

The workshops will help expand our knowledge to:

- Guide students through smooth transitions to high school, college and career
- Develop methods to engage students in their journey toward success after high school
- Learn how to measure the impact of your efforts, using data to inform decisions

Who should attend:

- Post-Secondary Advisement planning teams
- District administrators (CTE, Special Ed, Curriculum, Secondary)
- Any Delaware middle and high school administrators, teachers or school counselors
- Community organizations that advise students on college and career options

For school employees, if you would like to earn clock hours for these workshops, please register in PDMS. Course 29090.

May Sessions

Title: Measuring for Impact—Putting Your Data to Work

Presenters: Kelly Sparks and Joyce Brown, National Postsecondary Strategy Institute

Date/Time: Wednesday, May 13, 2020: 2:30 PM - 4:00 PM

Title: Unleashing the Power of Student Success Plans: Helping All Youth Become Future Ready

Presenter: Dr. Scott Solberg, Professor, Boston University

Date/Time: Tuesday, May 19, 2020: 1:00 PM – 2:30 PM

Please check

<https://delawarestudentsuccess.org/conference/> for session updates and workshop log-in information.

Questions?

Karen Keegan
Higher Education Office
Karen.keegan@doe.k12.de.us