Accepted to multiple colleges?

How to understand and compare your Financial Aid Awards to make an informed decision

PRESENTER:

Juliet Murawski,
Financial Aid and Scholarship Administrator
Higher Education Office,
Delaware Department of Education

If you have been accepted to more than one college, it is important to understand the financial aid offers that you may have received. Knowing how much you will have to pay out of your own pocket to attend each school is a critical part of the decision of which school to choose. Learn how to read your financial aid offers and how to identify money you do and do not have to pay back, so that you make a smart financial decision for the future.
